Tina	It's been a while since I have been at an airport waiting for a plane to depart.
Scott	I'm really looking forward to our first overseas trip together to Thailand. It's going to be a lot of fun.
Tina	By the way, did you check the departure board for the gate number?
Scott	It should be on your boarding pass.
Tina	Oh yeah. Let me check. It says that we are departing from gate 3A and we can board the plane at 10:15.
Scott	We still have plenty of time . Do you want to grab some breakfast before we head to the gate? I'm feeling a bit peckish .
Tina	Sure. I could do with a cup of coffee as well.
Scott	OK. After that we will probably have about half an hour to kill so we can head over to the duty-free store to see if we can find some nice duty-free goods to buy.
Tina	Now you're talking!

Student A and Student B are at the airport and have already checked in. They have a couple of hours before they can board their flight and are discussing ways to kill time.
